

SUMMIR

SUMMIR (Supporting Underrepresented Members of Microbiology and Immunology Research) is a new NIH funded 10-week summer research program for undergraduate students of all levels. Interns will complete a 1-week intro to techniques course at Towson University, then participate in a 9-week microbiology/immunology R1 research lab experience at the University of Maryland School of Medicine in Baltimore, MD.

Fill out this form to be added to our mailing list and notified
when the application opens:

<https://forms.office.com/r/Qm7Us45jk8>

