

NOTES FROM NANCY

The ORSP is pleased to announce a series of grant-related workshops and open houses. Several of these events are designed to be helpful to you during the summer months, when more time is available to focus upon scholarship. Indeed, we have provided an extensive list of funding opportunities in this newsletter, many of which may be of interest to those who may be thinking of applying for a sabbatical this coming fall. In fact, the deadlines for many fellowships are in late summer or early fall. Thus if you are considering applying for a sabbatical this October, be sure to contact us this spring or early summer. Unfortunately, too often faculty members approach us after they have submitted their sabbatical proposal to begin to search for supplemental funding only to find out that the deadlines have passed.

I also wish to draw your attention to the Council on Undergraduate Research (CUR) Enhanced Membership. We know that there are individual faculty members who purchase an individual membership from the CUR each year. Through switching Loyola's membership from the Institutional to Enhanced, it is my hope that we are able to provide you with a resource that will be useful to you and allow you to redirect some resources to filling other needs.

FACULTY MEMBER BENEFITS FROM ORSP FUNDING

Lisa Schoenbrodt, Professor of Speech-Language Pathology, participated in a peer review of the Department of Education's Personnel Preparation in Special Education, Early Intervention, and Related Services program. Lisa received a stipend from the ORSP's new program, Funds to Promote Grants Excellence, which seeks to support activities that will strengthen the Loyola faculty's grant expertise. Here's what Lisa had to say about the experience: "It was a lot of work, but it was very helpful, particularly since the DoE program is one that the department has been considering for some time. It helped to clarify exactly what needs to be in place before we submit an application. In fact, I found out that we need to have more in place before we're ready to apply."

That's exactly the purpose behind the Funds to Promote Grants Excellence initiative; to give faculty members insight into what will make for a successful proposal. If you are considering submitting to a federal agency and want to serve on a peer review panel or if you wish to learn more about the program, visit www.loyola.edu/grants-excellence for more information.

REMINDERS

Tenure-track faculty members interested in applying for tenure-track research leave are reminded to start the process early. Those planning to take a leave in Fall 2016 should submit a final application, including the submission of a grant proposal, before the end of October 2015. For more information visit www.loyola.edu/ttrl.

COUNCIL ON UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH (CUR) ENHANCED MEMBERSHIP

As of April 1, Loyola's membership in CUR will have expanded benefits including unlimited memberships for any interested faculty, staff, or students.

You may now access the CUR Members Only Website, which has information on topics such as funding resources and undergraduate research celebration days at institutions across the country. Also included on the site is an Advocacy section.

To access the website, please visit: https://members.cur.org/members_online/members/newmember.asp

After you enter your name and title, please be sure to select Loyola University Maryland (MD) from the drop down menu. It should alert you to the fact that your membership is covered, and then will prompt you to continue to add your contact information. Once your membership is processed, you will receive a confirmation email and will be able to register for members only online access by visiting http://www.cur.org/membership/forgot_password/ to have a copy of your login information sent.

Loyola also receives a subscription to the CUR Quarterly, a journal focusing on topics related to undergraduate research. Please continue to read the ORSP newsletter for highlights from CUR. If you are interested in viewing the entire newsletter, you are welcome to stop by our office.

Membership also entitles you to discounted conference and event registration fees.

ORSP SPRING EVENTS DESCRIPTIONS

Obtaining Funding to Support Your Senior Sabbatical

Dave Binkley, Computer Science, and Carsten Vala, Political Science, will discuss their experience in securing funding to support their upcoming sabbaticals and offer tips and strategies to faculty members who wish to seek funding from outside the university to support a future leave. The ORSP will provide an overview of how staff can help you and resources they provide.

Applying to the NSF from the Faculty Perspective

Join faculty members, Becky Brogan (Biology), Dawn Lawrie (Computer Science), Mary Lowe (Physics), and Chris Thompson (Biology), who have received a number of NSF grants. They will discuss the application process and how they approach proposal development.

Nuts and Bolts of NSF Applications

Each year the NSF updates its guidelines for prospective applicants. This year the changes were particularly extensive. Join ORSP staff for an overview of the NSF application requirements as well as some best practices in developing an application.

Navigating the Tenure-track Research Leave Program

Join Vice President for Academic Affairs, Amy Wolfson, grant recipients Jeremy Schwartz (Economics) and Jill Snodgrass (Pastoral Counseling), and ORSP staff for a discussion about the tenure-track research leave program. We will cover strategies for success and help demystify the application process.

Open Houses:

Drop by the ORSP offices to discuss your research interests and grant ideas. Pizza, drinks, and dessert will be available. Feel free to bring along any potential collaborators!
